

Building Science Basics 101

- Stack effect = The movement of air into and out of home
- The rising warm air draws air in through either open doors, windows, or other openings and up from basements and crawlspaces.

